

Sleaford St. Denys churchyard

The churchyard was closed in 1856, with the opening of Eastgate cemetery.

A section of the churchyard has been allowed to go wild and is covered with nettles and ivy. All gravestones are laid horizontally. Moss and grass have encroached over many of them, making them unreadable. A lot of the stones have worn away.

The church has internal burial vaults, which have been labelled as 'sec. in church' on the list below.

This transcription records all visible tombstone inscriptions. It was completed on 30th Aug 2006.
